It is an Examiner's Amendment, so it does not need to be signed (I have done hundreds of these before). You already have my written authorization in my last email and here.

Dear Mr. Becker,

The claims are fine. You need to sign in the amendment, just as the Remark section. You can use sign your name by typing it between forward slashes. For example, /Phuong N. Hoang/

Regards,
Ph.

Dear Examiner Hoang,

Attached is a proposed Examiner's Amendment, per our discussion on Friday, Dec. 8. You are authorized to enter this amendment on the record if you will allow the application. Feel free to call me if you have any questions.
